

FRIENDS OF QUEX

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Society of the Friends of Quex was set up in 1984, when membership was opened to people interested in supporting the work and activities of the Quex Museum, House and Gardens.

A programme of talks and visits throughout the year provides members with more information about the collections and ongoing work of the Museum and other subjects of interest. Quiz nights and a summer barbecue are pleasant social occasions. A newsletter is published three times a year.

As the Museum receives no public or government money, the funds raised by the Friends have been a valuable contribution. They have paid for a wide range of items including three young peahens to grace the gardens, the re-upholstery of gallery seating, photographic equipment and a TV/DVD for use in exhibitions.

Members of the Friends enjoy free admission to Quex Museum, House & Gardens in return for their valued support.
